CPCCWHS1001 Prepare to work safely in the construction industry

The unit of competency CPCCWHS1001 – Prepare to work safely in the construction industry is designed for those seeking work or preparing to work in the construction industry. Successful completion of this unit is mandatory before beginning work on a construction site.

The unit of competency is nationally recognised and can only be delivered by a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) that complies with the governing standards of quality control and quality training and assessment.

Upon successful completion of the training and assessment, you will be awarded a Statement of Attainment indicating competency in CPCCWHS1001 – Prepare to work safely in the construction industry. Also, you will be issued with interim certificate upon completion of the course to start working in the construction industry immediately.

The training program can also recognise your existing skills and knowledge. Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is a process where a participant's existing skills and knowledge are matched against the requirements of the unit of competency. A mandated RPL kit from SafeWork will be utilised and the instructions from the RPL kit will be followed. Additional information on our RPL process is available from the Allies Security Services Office.

Course duration: This training program is delivered over one (1) day 6.5 hours in a classroom environment at the Allies Security Services Training Centre.

Course prerequisites: To be eligible to enrol in this training program, participants must be able to read and write English to a sufficient standard to work with the supplied texts therefore you will be required to undertake a short language literacy and numeracy assessment prior to the course commencement. If you are not sure about your language, literacy and numeracy skills, please contact us for further advice.

In addition, you must bring 100 points of IDs as required by industry regulator. Should you need support or assistance beyond our skills we will refer you to a suitable organisation to assist you further.
